Join our Listening Group

At MidCoast Assist, we're always looking for ways to do things better, and your two cents worth is invaluable to us. That's why we run a Listening Group, so we can listen and learn from you about how we can improve our services.

Who can join?

- Anyone who receives a service from us can be a member of the Listening Group
- There are about 6 people in the group at any time, and we'd like to make sure this includes people who use a range of our services, people with different goals, and a mix of women and men of all ages
- Under 18's can join too, with approval from your parent or guardian

What's involved?

- We'll get together twice each year for a couple of hours, at our Forster Community Centre
- A facilitator will make sure everyone has a chance for their ideas to be heard, and will ask you what things you'd like to discuss
- Your ideas will be written down so we can use them to make important improvements to our services
